07 — UGC Shot List (Bonus 4)

60 Shots to Film So You Never Run Out of Footage

How to Use the Shot List

- Batch-film. Pick 15–20 shots, film them in one session, and you'll have B-roll for 5–10 ads.
- Film each shot 3 ways: close, medium, wide — or 3 angles. Editors (including future you) need options.
- Hold each shot 3–5 seconds, even if you'll only use 1 second.
- Vertical first. Film 9:16 at 1080p or 4K, 30fps. Use 60fps for anything you might slow down.
- Tick the box when captured and note the file name.

Gear you actually need: phone, window light, a cheap tripod or phone clamp, a clean surface. Optional: clip-on mic, white card as a light bounce.

Lighting & Framing Quick Rules

1. Face the window. Soft daylight on the face beats any ring light for authenticity.
2. Eyes on the top third line of the frame.
3. Clean lens — wipe it before every session.
4. Lock exposure (tap and hold on most phones) so brightness doesn't pulse.
5. Keep the background real but tidy — remove clutter that competes with the product.
6. Leave headroom and bottom space for text and platform UI (see safe zones in File 10).
7. Record room tone (10 seconds of silence) for smoother audio edits.
