How to Use This Pack

WHAT'S INSIDE

This pack contains 200 ready-to-use Instagram and Facebook Messenger DM scripts, organized into 20 categories covering the full customer journey — from the first "hello" to long-term reviews and referrals.

Every script follows the same simple format so you can find, customize, and send a message in seconds:

- Situation — when to use this message
- DM — the ready-to-copy message itself
- Personalize — the placeholders to swap in (shown in bold orange)
- Tip — a short, practical note on using it well

QUICK START

- Find the situation that matches your conversation in the Table of Contents below.
- Copy the DM text and replace every [bracketed placeholder] with your own details.
- Adjust the tone slightly to match your own voice before sending — small tweaks keep it feeling personal.
- Never send a script exactly as written to a large list at once — these are built for real, one-to-one conversations.

PART 1 OF 4 • SCRIPTS 001-050

Part One — Starting Conversations & Engaging Leads

Conversation Starters

Instagram Story & Engagement DMs

Product & Service Inquiry DMs

Lead Qualification DMs

Follow-Up DMs

Conversation Starters

Script 001 — New Follower Welcome

SITUATION

Someone new follows your account and you want to open a natural conversation without sounding automated.

DM

Hey [Name], thanks for the follow! I always like to say hi to new faces around here — what brought you to [Business Name]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Business Name]

TIP

Send this within 24-48 hours of the follow so it still feels timely and relevant.

Script 002 — New Connection

SITUATION

You've just connected with someone through a mutual contact, group, or event and want to start building the relationship.

DM

Hi [Name], [Mutual Contact] mentioned we should connect — I run [Business Name] and always enjoy meeting people in [Industry/Niche]. How's things going on your end?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Mutual Contact], [Business Name], [Industry/Niche]

TIP

Naming the mutual connection first builds instant trust and context.

Script 003 — Warm Introduction

SITUATION

A client, friend, or partner has introduced you to a potential lead and you're reaching out for the first time.

DM

*Hey [Name], [Referrer Name] said we should chat — they mentioned you're looking into [Topic/Need].
I'd love to hear more about what you're working on.*

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Referrer Name], [Topic/Need]

TIP

Reference the referrer's exact words if possible — it shows you were actually briefed, not just cold messaging.

Script 004 — Content-Based Conversation

SITUATION

Someone left a thoughtful comment on your post and you want to continue the conversation in DMs.

DM

Hey [Name], loved your comment on my [post about X] — curious, is that something you're dealing with right now too?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [post about X]

TIP

Ask a genuine follow-up question rather than pitching anything right away.

Script 005 — Networking Outreach

SITUATION

You want to connect with someone in your industry for potential collaboration, not a sale.

DM

Hi [Name], I've been following your work at [Business Name/Account] for a while — really like your approach to [Specific Thing]. Would love to connect and swap notes sometime.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Business Name/Account], [Specific Thing]

TIP

Keep the tone peer-to-peer, not pitchy — this is about building a relationship first.

Script 006 — Potential Customer Opener

SITUATION

You've noticed someone engaging with your niche or products but haven't interacted with you directly yet.

DM

Hi [Name], noticed you're into [Topic/Interest] — I actually help people with exactly that through [Product/Service]. Mind if I share a bit more?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic/Interest], [Product/Service]

TIP

Ask permission before pitching — it respects their time and gets a better response rate.

Script 007 — Potential Business Client

SITUATION

Reaching out to a business account or decision-maker who could become a B2B client.

DM

Hi [Name], I work with businesses like [Business Name] on [Service Area] and thought there might be a good fit here. Would you be open to a quick chat about what you're currently doing for [Area]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Business Name], [Service Area], [Area]

TIP

Lead with relevance to their business, not your offer — it reads as research, not a template.

Script 008 — Friendly Opener

SITUATION

A low-pressure, casual first message to someone in your community with no immediate sales intent.

DM

Hey [Name]! Just wanted to say hi — I've enjoyed seeing your posts about [Topic]. Hope things are going well with [Business Name/Project]!

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic], [Business Name/Project]

TIP

Don't attach any ask to this one — let it stand as a genuine, no-strings message.

Script 009 — Re-Engagement Opener

SITUATION

Reconnecting with someone you spoke with a while ago but the conversation went quiet.

DM

Hey [Name], it's been a bit! Just checking in — how did things end up going with [Previous Topic/Project]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Previous Topic/Project]

TIP

Reference something specific from your last chat so it doesn't feel like a cold restart.

Script 010 — General Inquiry Opener

SITUATION

Someone messages your page with a vague greeting like "Hi" or "Hello" and you need to guide the conversation.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for reaching out! Happy to help — are you looking for info on [Product], [Service], or something else I can point you to?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product], [Service]

TIP

Give 2-3 concrete options so the person doesn't have to guess what to ask about.

Instagram Story & Engagement DMs

Script 011 — Story Reaction Reply

SITUATION

Someone reacts to your Instagram Story with an emoji and you want to turn it into a conversation.

DM

Hey [Name], thanks for the reaction! Was that story about [Topic] something you're currently thinking about too?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic]

TIP

Keep it light — a reaction is a small signal, so don't over-pitch this early.

Script 012 — Story Poll Response

SITUATION

Someone votes on a poll sticker in your story and you want to follow up on their choice.

DM

Hi [Name], saw you picked "[Poll Option]" on my poll — good choice! Want me to send over more info on that?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Poll Option]

TIP

This works best when your poll directly relates to a product or service you offer.

Script 013 — Question Sticker Follow-Up

SITUATION

Someone submitted a question through your Story's question sticker and you're following up with a fuller answer.

DM

Hey [Name], thanks for your question about [Topic]! Here's a bit more detail: [Short Answer]. Let me know if you'd like me to go deeper on any part of it.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic], [Short Answer]

TIP

Answer in the DM even if you also feature the question publicly — it makes the person feel personally heard.

Script 014 — Reel Engagement Follow-Up

SITUATION

Someone comments on or shares your Reel, showing strong interest in the topic.

DM

Hey [Name], thanks for sharing/commenting on that Reel about [Topic]! Was there a part of it that stood out to you the most?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic]

TIP

Asking what stood out gives you insight into what they actually care about before you pitch anything.

Script 015 — Product Story Response

SITUATION

Someone reacts to a story where you featured a specific product.

DM

Hi [Name], glad you liked the story on [Product]! It's designed for [Use Case] — want me to send the details or pricing?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product], [Use Case]

TIP

Offer a direct next step (details or pricing) instead of leaving the conversation open-ended.

Script 016 — Educational Story Response

SITUATION

Someone engages with an educational or tip-based story you posted.

DM

Hey [Name], glad that tip on [Topic] was useful! If you want, I can send a couple more resources on [Related Topic].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic], [Related Topic]

TIP

Offering more value first builds trust before any product conversation starts.

Script 017 — Customer Story Response

SITUATION

Someone reacts to a customer testimonial or success story you shared.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for checking out that story! [Customer Name]'s results came from [Product/Service] — happy to explain how it could work for your situation too.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Customer Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Use a real, specific result rather than a vague claim to keep it credible.

Script 018 — Behind-the-Scenes Story Response

SITUATION

Someone engages with a behind-the-scenes look at your business or process.

DM

Hey [Name], thanks for the love on that behind-the-scenes look! That's actually how we put together [Product/Service] — curious what part interested you most?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Behind-the-scenes content builds trust — use the reply to deepen that, not to sell immediately.

Script 019 — Interest-Based Response

SITUATION

Someone consistently engages with a specific type of content (e.g., always reacts to pricing or product posts).

DM

Hi [Name], noticed you've checked out a few of my posts on [Topic] — are you exploring [Product/Service] for yourself right now?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic], [Product/Service]

TIP

This works well after 3+ engagements on similar content — it shows genuine, not random, interest.

Script 020 — Moving Engagement to Conversation

SITUATION

You want to shift someone from passive engagement (likes, views) into an active DM conversation.

DM

Hey [Name], I've noticed you around my page lately — always nice to see familiar faces! Is there anything specific about [Topic/Product] I can help you with?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic/Product]

TIP

Frame it as noticing them, not tracking them — keep the tone warm and casual.

Product & Service Inquiry DMs

Script 021 — "How Much?" Response

SITUATION

A lead asks for pricing directly, often as their first message.

DM

Hi [Name], happy to share! [Product/Service] starts at [Price]. To make sure I give you the right option, can I ask what you're mainly looking to achieve?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Price]

TIP

Give the price first, then ask a qualifying question — withholding pricing often kills trust.

Script 022 — "What Do You Offer?" Response

SITUATION

Someone wants a general overview of what your business provides.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for asking! I offer [Product/Service 1] and [Product/Service 2], both aimed at helping [Target Outcome]. Is there one that sounds more relevant to you?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service 1], [Product/Service 2], [Target Outcome]

TIP

Keep the overview to 2-3 offers max so the person isn't overwhelmed.

Script 023 — "Send Me Details" Response

SITUATION

A lead asks for more information without specifying what exactly they want to know.

DM

Sure thing, [Name]! Here's a quick rundown of [Product/Service]: [Short Details]. Want me to send the full link too?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Short Details]

TIP

Summarize in 2-3 lines before sending a link — most people skim, they don't click blind.

Script 024 — "What Is Included?" Response

SITUATION

Someone wants to know exactly what they get with a purchase.

DM

Hi [Name], great question! [Product/Service] includes [Item 1], [Item 2], and [Item 3]. Let me know if you'd like me to break any part down further.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Item 1], [Item 2], [Item 3]

TIP

List items clearly with line breaks or bullets — it reads faster than one long sentence.

Script 025 — "How Does It Work?" Response

SITUATION

A lead wants to understand the process or mechanics of your product or service.

DM

Hi [Name], happy to explain! Basically, [Step 1], then [Step 2], and finally [Step 3]. It's pretty straightforward — any part you'd like me to expand on?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Step 1], [Step 2], [Step 3]

TIP

Break the process into 3 simple steps max — too much detail upfront can overwhelm a new lead.

Script 026 — "Is This For Beginners?" Response

SITUATION

Someone is unsure if your product or service matches their experience level.

DM

Hi [Name], yes, [Product/Service] is designed to work for beginners too — it starts with [Beginner-Friendly Feature]. What's your current experience with [Topic]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Beginner-Friendly Feature], [Topic]

TIP

Asking about their experience helps you tailor the rest of the conversation accurately.

Script 027 — "Can I See a Sample?" Response

SITUATION

A lead wants proof or a preview before committing to buy.

DM

Of course, [Name]! Here's a sample of [Product/Service]: [Link/Attachment]. Let me know what you think once you've had a look.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Link/Attachment]

TIP

Always follow up after sending a sample — silence after a sample often just means they forgot to reply.

Script 028 — "Where Can I Buy?" Response

SITUATION

Someone is ready to purchase and just needs the link or process.

DM

Great news, [Name]! You can grab [Product/Service] right here: [Link]. Let me know if you hit any issues checking out.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Link]

TIP

Offer to help with checkout issues — it removes friction and shows you're available.

Script 029 — "Do You Provide Support?" Response

SITUATION

A lead wants reassurance about after-purchase help before buying.

DM

Yes, [Name], you'll have [Support Type — e.g., email/chat support] after purchase, so you're never left figuring things out alone. Does that answer your question?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Support Type]

TIP

Be specific about the type and availability of support — vague reassurance doesn't build confidence.

Script 030 — General Product Inquiry

SITUATION

A lead asks a broad or unclear question about your product without specifics.

DM

Hi [Name], happy to help! Just so I point you in the right direction — are you asking about pricing, what's included, or how [Product/Service] actually works?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Use this to narrow a vague question into something you can answer precisely.

Lead Qualification DMs

Script 031 — Understanding Customer Needs

SITUATION

You want to learn more about what the lead actually needs before recommending anything.

DM

Hi [Name], before I suggest anything, I'd love to understand your situation a bit better — what are you currently trying to achieve with [Topic/Area]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic/Area]

TIP

Ask this before pitching — recommendations land better when they're clearly tailored.

Script 032 — Identifying the Customer's Problem

SITUATION

You want to pinpoint the specific challenge the lead is facing.

DM

Hi [Name], can I ask — what's the biggest challenge you're running into with [Topic] right now?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic]

TIP

Let them answer in their own words — you'll often get language you can reuse later in your pitch.

Script 033 — Asking Budget-Related Questions Naturally

SITUATION

You need to understand budget range without sounding blunt or transactional.

DM

Hi [Name], to make sure I recommend the right fit, do you have a rough budget range in mind for [Product/Service], or would you like me to share a few options at different price points?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Offering "a few price points" as an alternative makes the question feel optional, not pushy.

Script 034 — Understanding Requirements

SITUATION

You need specific details about what the customer needs before quoting or recommending.

DM

Hi [Name], quick question so I can point you to the right option — are you looking for [Option A] or more like [Option B]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Option A], [Option B]

TIP

Giving two clear choices is easier to answer than an open-ended "what do you need?"

Script 035 — Service Qualification

SITUATION

You want to confirm the lead is a good fit for your service before moving forward.

DM

Hi [Name], to see if [Service] is the right fit, can I ask what stage you're at with [Area] right now — just starting out, or already have something in place?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Service], [Area]

TIP

This helps you avoid pitching the wrong tier of service to someone at the wrong stage.

Script 036 — Product Suitability

SITUATION

You want to confirm the product actually solves the lead's specific need.

DM

Hi [Name], just to make sure [Product] is the right match — is your main goal more about [Outcome A] or [Outcome B]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product], [Outcome A], [Outcome B]

TIP

If neither outcome fits, be upfront — it builds trust even if it means no sale today.

Script 037 — Asking About Goals

SITUATION

You want to understand what success looks like for the lead.

DM

Hi [Name], curious — what would success look like for you with [Topic/Product] a few months from now?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic/Product]

TIP

This question often reveals the real motivation behind their interest, not just the surface request.

Script 038 — Identifying Urgency

SITUATION

You want to know how soon the lead is looking to act, without pressuring them.

DM

Hi [Name], is this something you're hoping to sort out soon, or more just exploring options for now?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Their answer tells you whether to follow up quickly or give them more space.

Script 039 — Determining Decision Stage

SITUATION

You want to know if the lead is comparing options, ready to buy, or just researching.

DM

Hi [Name], are you currently comparing a few options, or already leaning toward moving forward with something like [Product/Service]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Knowing their decision stage tells you whether to educate more or move straight to an offer.

Script 040 — Moving Qualified Leads Toward an Offer

SITUATION

Based on their answers, the lead is a good fit and ready for a direct next step.

DM

*Hi [Name], based on what you've shared, I think [Product/Service] would be a great fit for [Their Goal].
Want me to send over the details to get started?*

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Their Goal]

TIP

Only use this once you've confirmed fit through prior questions — it should feel like a natural next step, not a pitch out of nowhere.

Follow-Up DMs

Script 041 — Follow-Up After Sending Details

SITUATION

You sent product or service details and haven't heard back yet.

DM

Hi [Name], just checking in — did you get a chance to look over the details on [Product/Service]? Happy to answer any questions.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Send this 1-2 days after sharing details, not immediately, to give them time to review.

Script 042 — Follow-Up After Sending Price

SITUATION

You shared pricing and want to check in without sounding pushy.

DM

Hi [Name], following up on the pricing for [Product/Service] — happy to break it down further or answer anything that's unclear.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Offer to clarify rather than asking "did you decide?" — it keeps the tone helpful, not pressuring.

Script 043 — Follow-Up After Sending a Link

SITUATION

You sent a purchase or booking link and want to confirm they received it okay.

DM

Hi [Name], just making sure the link for [Product/Service] came through okay — let me know if you run into any trouble accessing it.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Framing it as a technical check-in feels less like a sales push and more like genuine support.

Script 044 — 24-Hour Follow-Up

SITUATION

A day has passed since your last message with no response.

DM

Hi [Name], just floating this back up in case it got buried — still happy to help if you have any questions about [Topic/Product].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic/Product]

TIP

"Floating this back up" is a light, non-intrusive way to re-surface the conversation.

Script 045 — 3-Day Follow-Up

SITUATION

Several days have passed with no reply and you want to check in once more.

DM

Hi [Name], hope things have been busy on your end! Wanted to check if you still have questions about [Product/Service] or if now isn't the right time.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Giving them an easy out ("if now isn't the right time") often prompts an honest response either way.

Script 046 — No-Response Follow-Up

SITUATION

Multiple follow-ups have gone unanswered and you want one more low-pressure attempt.

DM

Hi [Name], no worries if the timing isn't right — just let me know whenever you're ready to pick this back up, I'm here.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

This message removes pressure entirely, which sometimes is exactly what prompts a reply.

Script 047 — Gentle Reminder

SITUATION

You want to remind the lead about a deadline, appointment, or open offer without pressure.

DM

Hi [Name], just a gentle reminder about [Offer/Appointment] — let me know if you need anything from me before then.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Offer/Appointment]

TIP

Keep reminders factual and calm — avoid pairing them with pressure language.

Script 048 — Re-Engagement

SITUATION

The conversation went cold weeks or months ago and you want to reopen it naturally.

DM

Hi [Name], it's been a little while! Wanted to check in and see how things are going with [Topic/Area] — still relevant for you these days?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic/Area]

TIP

Treat this as a fresh conversation, not a continuation of an old pitch.

Script 049 — Final Polite Follow-Up

SITUATION

You want to send a last, respectful message before stepping back from the conversation.

DM

Hi [Name], I'll leave this here for now so I'm not filling your inbox! If [Product/Service] becomes relevant down the line, I'm just a message away.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Ending on a warm, no-pressure note keeps the door open for future contact.

Script 050 — Follow-Up After Customer Shows Interest

SITUATION

The lead has responded positively and you want to move the conversation forward.

DM

Hi [Name], glad to hear you're interested! The next step is [Next Step — e.g., sending the link, booking a call]. Want me to go ahead and set that up?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Next Step]

TIP

Give one clear next action — momentum is easiest to keep when the next step is obvious.

PART 2 OF 4 • SCRIPTS 051–100

Part Two — Qualifying, Closing & Onboarding

Objection Handling DMs

Closing & Sales DMs

Post-Purchase & Customer Service DMs

Upsell & Cross-Sell DMs

Referral, Community & Retention DMs

Objection Handling DMs

Script 051 — "It's Too Expensive"

SITUATION

A lead says your price is too high and you need to respond without being defensive or dropping the price impulsively.

DM

Totally understand, [Name] — budget matters. Can I ask what you were expecting to invest? That way I can see if there's an option that fits better, like [Alternative Option].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Alternative Option]

TIP

Ask about their expectation before offering a discount — sometimes the issue is value clarity, not price itself.

Script 052 — "I Need to Think About It"

SITUATION

A lead is hesitant and wants time before deciding.

DM

Of course, [Name], no rush at all. While you're thinking it over, is there anything specific that's holding you back? Happy to clear it up.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

This question often surfaces the real objection hiding behind "I need to think about it."

Script 053 — "I'll Come Back Later"

SITUATION

A lead postpones the decision without giving a clear reason.

DM

No problem, [Name] — whenever works for you. If it helps, I can keep the details handy so it's easy to pick back up when you're ready.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Offering to "keep it handy" removes friction for when they do return.

Script 054 — "I'm Not Sure It'll Work For Me"

SITUATION

A lead doubts whether your product or service fits their specific situation.

DM

That's a fair concern, [Name]. Can you tell me a bit more about your situation with [Topic]? That'll help me be honest about whether it's a good fit.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic]

TIP

Being willing to say "it might not be a fit" builds more trust than pushing past the doubt.

Script 055 — "I Don't Have Time Right Now"

SITUATION

A lead is interested but feels they don't have bandwidth currently.

DM

Totally get it, [Name] — things get busy. [Product/Service] is actually built to take [Time Commitment], so it might fit better than you'd think. Want me to explain how it works?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Time Commitment]

TIP

Address the time concern with a real, specific number — vague reassurance won't overcome this objection.

Script 056 — "I Need to Ask Someone Else First"

SITUATION

A lead needs approval or input from a partner, boss, or spouse before deciding.

DM

Makes sense, [Name] — that's an important conversation to have. Want me to send over a short summary you can share with them?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Offering a shareable summary makes it easier for them to advocate for you internally.

Script 057 — "I've Tried Something Similar Before"

SITUATION

A lead has had a past experience with a similar product or service that didn't work out.

DM

Ah, I hear that a lot, [Name] — mind sharing what didn't work last time? It helps me explain how [Product/Service] is different, if it actually is.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Listen first — don't assume your offer solves their past frustration until you know what it was.

Script 058 — "I'm Not Ready Yet"

SITUATION

A lead is interested but doesn't feel it's the right time to commit.

DM

Totally understand, [Name]. Out of curiosity, what would need to change for the timing to feel right?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

This question can reveal a concrete blocker you can actually help solve.

Script 059 — Comparing to a Competitor

SITUATION

A lead mentions they're also considering another provider or product.

DM

Good to know, [Name] — it's smart to compare options. Happy to share what makes [Product/Service] different so you can decide what fits best for you.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Never criticize the competitor by name — focus only on your own strengths.

Script 060 — General Hesitation After Objection

SITUATION

A lead raised a concern, you responded, and now there's silence — you want to check in without pressure.

DM

Hi [Name], just wanted to check if that answered your question about [Concern], or if there's anything else on your mind before deciding.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Concern]

TIP

Naming the specific concern shows you were listening, not just following a script.

Closing & Sales DMs

Script 061 — Direct Closing Offer

SITUATION

The lead is qualified and ready — you want to move directly to close the sale.

DM

Hi [Name], based on everything we've talked about, I think you're ready for [Product/Service]. Want me to send the link so you can get started?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Only use this after genuine qualification — a premature close can feel pushy.

Script 062 — Confirming Payment/Checkout

SITUATION

The lead has agreed to buy and you're guiding them through payment.

DM

Great, [Name]! Here's the checkout link: [Link]. Let me know once it's done or if you run into anything.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Link]

TIP

Staying available during checkout reduces drop-off from last-minute confusion.

Script 063 — Sending Invoice/Payment Link

SITUATION

You're sending a formal invoice or custom payment request to a client.

DM

Hi [Name], here's the invoice for [Product/Service]: [Link]. Let me know if you need it adjusted or have any questions before paying.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Link]

TIP

Double-check the amount and details before sending — errors here can delay a close.

Script 064 — Limited Spots/Capacity Offer

SITUATION

You genuinely have limited capacity (e.g., client slots, cohort size) and want to communicate that honestly.

DM

Hi [Name], just a heads-up — I only take on [Number] clients at a time for [Service], and I currently have [Number] spots open. Let me know if you'd like to lock one in.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Number], [Service]

TIP

Only use real numbers — this only works, and stays ethical, when the limit is genuine.

Script 065 — Bundle/Package Offer

SITUATION

You want to offer a combined package that fits the lead's stated needs better than a single item.

DM

Hi [Name], based on what you mentioned, the [Bundle Name] might actually suit you better — it includes [Item 1] and [Item 2] together. Want me to break down the details?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Bundle Name], [Item 1], [Item 2]

TIP

Only suggest a bundle if it genuinely matches their needs, not just because it's a bigger sale.

Script 066 — Custom Offer Based on Needs

SITUATION

You're tailoring a specific offer based on the details the lead has shared.

DM

*Hi [Name], based on everything you shared, here's what I'd recommend: [Custom Recommendation].
Want me to put together the full details?*

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Custom Recommendation]

TIP

Reference specific details they gave you earlier — it shows the offer wasn't copy-pasted.

Script 067 — Booking a Call to Close

SITUATION

The conversation is ready to move from DMs to a call for final details or closing.

DM

*Hi [Name], I think a quick call would help us wrap up the details faster. Are you free sometime this week?
I can send over a couple of time options.*

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Offer specific time windows rather than "whenever works" — it's easier to say yes to.

Script 068 — Confirming Order Details

SITUATION

You want to confirm exactly what the customer purchased or ordered before finalizing.

DM

Hi [Name], just confirming your order: [Order Details]. Everything look correct before I finalize it?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Order Details]

TIP

Confirming details upfront prevents disputes or confusion later.

Script 069 — Thank You After Purchase

SITUATION

A customer has just completed a purchase and you want to acknowledge it warmly.

DM

Thank you so much, [Name]! Really appreciate you choosing [Business Name] for [Product/Service]. I'll get everything set up on my end now.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Business Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Send this immediately after purchase — timely appreciation strengthens the relationship right away.

Script 070 — Welcome After Purchase/Onboarding

SITUATION

You're welcoming a new customer and walking them through next steps.

DM

Welcome aboard, [Name]! Here's what happens next: [Step 1], then [Step 2]. Let me know if anything's unclear along the way.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Step 1], [Step 2]

TIP

Keep onboarding steps short and sequential so the customer never feels lost.

Post-Purchase & Customer Service DMs

Script 071 — Order Confirmation

SITUATION

You're confirming that an order or booking has been successfully processed.

DM

Hi [Name], just confirming your order for [Product/Service] has gone through! You'll receive [What's Next] shortly.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [What's Next]

TIP

Set a clear expectation for timing (e.g., "within 24 hours") so the customer isn't left guessing.

Script 072 — Delivery/Access Instructions

SITUATION

You're sending instructions for how the customer can access or receive what they purchased.

DM

Hi [Name], here's how to access [Product/Service]: [Instructions]. Let me know if you have any trouble getting set up.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Instructions]

TIP

Number the steps if there's more than one — it's easier to follow than a paragraph.

Script 073 — Checking In After Purchase

SITUATION

A few days have passed since purchase and you want to see how things are going.

DM

Hi [Name], just checking in — how's everything going with [Product/Service] so far? Let me know if you need anything.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

This check-in often prevents small issues from turning into refund requests.

Script 074 — Answering a Support Question

SITUATION

A customer has a specific question or issue after purchase.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for flagging that! Here's how to fix it: [Solution]. Let me know if it's still not working and I'll dig deeper.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Solution]

TIP

Always offer a next step if the first solution doesn't work — don't leave the door closed.

Script 075 — Handling a Complaint

SITUATION

A customer is unhappy with their experience and you need to respond calmly and constructively.

DM

Hi [Name], I'm really sorry to hear that — thanks for letting me know. Can you share a bit more detail about what happened so I can make it right?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Lead with acknowledgment before jumping to a solution — the customer needs to feel heard first.

Script 076 — Refund/Return Request Handling

SITUATION

A customer requests a refund or return and you need to respond professionally.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for reaching out. I can definitely help with that — here's the process: [Refund/Return Process]. Let me know once you've had a look.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Refund/Return Process]

TIP

Respond quickly and without pushback — a smooth refund process often earns repeat trust later.

Script 077 — Troubleshooting Help

SITUATION

A customer is stuck on a technical or usage issue and needs guided help.

DM

Hi [Name], let's get this sorted. Can you try [Troubleshooting Step] and let me know what happens? I'll take it from there.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Troubleshooting Step]

TIP

Ask for one step at a time rather than a long list — it's easier for the customer to follow and report back.

Script 078 — Requesting Feedback

SITUATION

You want honest feedback from a customer after they've used your product or service for a while.

DM

Hi [Name], you've had [Product/Service] for a bit now — I'd love to hear how it's been working for you, good or bad.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Inviting honest feedback, not just praise, builds more trust and gives you better insight.

Script 079 — Requesting a Review/Testimonial

SITUATION

A customer has had a positive experience and you'd like to ask for a public review or testimonial.

DM

Hi [Name], so glad [Product/Service] has been working well for you! If you're open to it, a quick review would mean a lot — no pressure either way.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Only ask after confirming they're genuinely happy — an early or forced ask can feel awkward.

Script 080 — Thank You for Feedback

SITUATION

A customer has just given you feedback, positive or constructive, and you want to acknowledge it.

DM

Thank you for sharing that, [Name] — really appreciate you taking the time. I'll definitely take it into account going forward.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Even critical feedback deserves a genuine thank-you — it keeps the relationship open for future business.

Upsell & Cross-Sell DMs

Script 081 — Suggesting a Complementary Product

SITUATION

A past customer might benefit from a product that pairs well with what they already bought.

DM

Hi [Name], hope [Product] has been going well! A lot of customers pair it with [Complementary Product] for [Benefit] — thought it might be useful for you too.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product], [Complementary Product], [Benefit]

TIP

Frame it around a specific benefit, not just "you might also like this."

Script 082 — Upgrading to a Higher Tier

SITUATION

An existing customer's needs may have grown beyond their current plan or package.

DM

Hi [Name], noticed you've been getting great use out of [Current Plan] — based on that, [Upgraded Plan] might unlock even more with [Extra Benefit]. Want the details?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Current Plan], [Upgraded Plan], [Extra Benefit]

TIP

Reference their actual usage or results before suggesting an upgrade — it should feel earned, not generic.

Script 083 — Renewal Reminder

SITUATION

A customer's subscription, service, or package is approaching renewal.

DM

Hi [Name], just a heads-up that your [Product/Service] is coming up for renewal on [Date]. Let me know if you'd like to continue as-is or make any changes.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Date]

TIP

Give this reminder with enough lead time for the customer to decide without feeling rushed.

Script 084 — Seasonal/Relevant Offer

SITUATION

A relevant offer fits a seasonal moment or timely event for the customer.

DM

Hi [Name], with [Season/Event] coming up, thought [Product/Service] might be timely for you — happy to share the details if you're interested.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Season/Event], [Product/Service]

TIP

Make sure the seasonal tie-in is genuinely relevant to the customer, not just a generic calendar trigger.

Script 085 — Bundle Upgrade

SITUATION

A customer who bought a single item could benefit from upgrading to a bundle.

DM

Hi [Name], since you already have [Product], you could add [Additional Product] as part of the [Bundle Name] and save on getting both. Want me to send the details?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product], [Additional Product], [Bundle Name]

TIP

Lead with the practical benefit (savings, convenience) rather than just naming the bundle.

Script 086 — Loyalty/Repeat Customer Offer

SITUATION

You want to reward a customer who has purchased from you multiple times.

DM

Hi [Name], just wanted to say thanks for being a repeat customer — really means a lot. As a thank-you, here's [Offer/Perk] if you're interested.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Offer/Perk]

TIP

Lead with genuine appreciation before mentioning the offer — it should feel like a thank-you, not a pitch.

Script 087 — New Product Announcement to Past Customers

SITUATION

You've launched something new and want to let previous customers know first.

DM

Hi [Name], wanted you to be one of the first to know — I just launched [New Product], and thought it might be relevant given your interest in [Previous Purchase]. Want to take a look?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [New Product], [Previous Purchase]

TIP

Connecting it to their past purchase makes the announcement feel personal, not like a mass blast.

Script 088 — Cross-Sell Based on Purchase History

SITUATION

You want to recommend something based on what the customer has specifically bought before.

DM

Hi [Name], since you picked up [Previous Product], I thought you might also like [Related Product] — it tends to work really well alongside it.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Previous Product], [Related Product]

TIP

Only recommend products that genuinely complement their past purchase — irrelevant cross-sells feel spammy.

Script 089 — VIP/Exclusive Access Offer

SITUATION

You want to give a loyal customer early or exclusive access to something.

DM

Hi [Name], as one of my long-time customers, I wanted to give you early access to [Product/Offer] before it goes out to everyone else. Interested in a first look?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Offer]

TIP

Reserve this language for genuinely early or limited access — don't send it to your entire list.

Script 090 — Anniversary/Milestone Offer

SITUATION

You want to acknowledge a meaningful milestone in the customer relationship (e.g., one year as a customer).

DM

Hi [Name], hard to believe it's been [Time Period] since you became a customer! To celebrate, here's [Offer/Perk] as a small thank-you.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Time Period], [Offer/Perk]

TIP

Personalizing the exact milestone (not a generic "thanks for being with us") makes this feel authentic.

SECTION 10 OF 20

Referral, Community & Retention DMs

Script 091 — Asking for a Referral

SITUATION

A satisfied customer might know others who'd benefit from your product or service.

DM

Hi [Name], so glad [Product/Service] has worked out well for you! If you know anyone else who might benefit, I'd really appreciate the introduction.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Ask only after clear satisfaction has been expressed — timing matters more than wording here.

Script 092 — Thanking for a Referral

SITUATION

A customer has referred someone new to your business and you want to acknowledge it.

DM

Hi [Name], just wanted to say thank you for sending [Referred Person] my way — I really appreciate the trust!

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Referred Person]

TIP

Send this promptly after the referral comes through — timely thanks encourages more referrals later.

Script 093 — Community/Group Invitation

SITUATION

You want to invite a customer or engaged follower into a community, group, or membership.

DM

Hi [Name], I run a small community for people interested in [Topic] — thought it might be a good fit for you. Want me to send the link?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic]

TIP

Briefly describe what the community offers (support, resources, discussion) so it's clear why they'd want to join.

Script 094 — Re-Engaging Inactive Customer

SITUATION

A past customer hasn't interacted or purchased in a while and you want to reconnect.

DM

Hi [Name], it's been a while! Hope things have been going well. Just checking in — is [Topic/Area] still something you're working on?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic/Area]

TIP

Keep this message need-focused, not sales-focused, to reopen the conversation naturally.

Script 095 — Win-Back Offer

SITUATION

You want to bring back a customer who hasn't purchased in a long time with a relevant offer.

DM

Hi [Name], it's been a while since your last order with [Business Name] — we've made some updates to [Product/Service] since then. Want me to share what's new?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Business Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Highlight genuine changes or improvements rather than just offering a blanket discount.

Script 096 — Birthday/Special Occasion Message

SITUATION

You want to acknowledge a customer's birthday or another meaningful personal occasion.

DM

Happy Birthday, [Name]! Hope you have a great one. Just a small thank-you for being part of the [Business Name] community: [Offer/Perk].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Business Name], [Offer/Perk]

TIP

Lead with the genuine well-wish — the offer should feel secondary to the gesture.

Script 097 — Celebrating Customer's Results/Success

SITUATION

A customer has shared a win or result and you want to celebrate it with them.

DM

Hi [Name], that's fantastic news about [Result/Win]! Really happy to see it — thanks for letting me be part of the journey.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Result/Win]

TIP

Keep the focus entirely on their achievement — resist the urge to pivot into a sales message here.

Script 098 — Survey/Feedback Request

SITUATION

You want structured feedback from a customer to improve your product or service.

DM

Hi [Name], I'm always looking to improve — would you be open to answering a couple of quick questions about your experience with [Product/Service]?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Keep the survey short and mention it upfront — people respond better when they know the time commitment.

Script 099 — Loyalty Program Invitation

SITUATION

You want to invite a repeat customer into a formal loyalty or rewards program.

DM

Hi [Name], since you've been such a great customer, I'd love to have you in our [Loyalty Program Name] — you'll get [Benefit]. Want me to get you set up?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Loyalty Program Name], [Benefit]

TIP

Be specific about the benefit — vague "rewards" language is less persuasive than a concrete perk.

Script 100 — General Relationship-Building Check-In

SITUATION

You simply want to maintain the relationship with a past customer without any sales agenda.

DM

Hi [Name], no particular reason for this message — just wanted to check in and see how things have been going on your end!

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Send a few of these with zero sales intent throughout the relationship — it keeps things feeling human, not transactional.

PART 3 OF 4 • SCRIPTS 101–150

Part Three — Objections & Difficult Customers

Price & Value Objections

Trust & Skepticism Objections

Difficult Customer Situations

Complaint & Dispute Resolution

Setting Boundaries & Difficult Conversations

Price & Value Objections

Script 101 — Direct "Too Expensive" Pushback

SITUATION

A lead flatly says the price is too high, and you want to reframe around value rather than just defending the number.

DM

I hear you, [Name] — can I share why it's priced this way? [Product/Service] includes [Key Value Point], which is usually what makes the difference for people. Happy to break it down further.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Key Value Point]

TIP

Explain the "why" behind the price once, then stop — repeating it can sound defensive.

Script 102 — Comparing Price to a Cheaper Competitor

SITUATION

A lead mentions a competitor offers something similar for less.

DM

Totally fair to compare, [Name]. The main difference with [Product/Service] is [Differentiator] — that's usually why customers choose it even at a higher price. Want me to walk through the comparison?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Differentiator]

TIP

Never disparage the competitor — focus entirely on what makes your offer different.

Script 103 — "I Can Find This Cheaper Elsewhere"

SITUATION

A lead states outright they've seen it cheaper somewhere else.

DM

That's good to know, [Name] — mind sharing where? Sometimes the lower price means a few things are left out, and I want to make sure you're comparing apples to apples.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Asking "where" is genuinely useful — it lets you address the specific gap rather than guessing.

Script 104 — "Why Is It Priced This Way?"

SITUATION

A lead is curious (not hostile) about how you arrived at your pricing.

DM

Good question, [Name]! The price covers [Cost Factor 1] and [Cost Factor 2], which is what allows me to deliver [Outcome] consistently. Happy to go deeper if useful.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Cost Factor 1], [Cost Factor 2], [Outcome]

TIP

Transparency about pricing structure often removes the objection entirely.

Script 105 — Asking for a Discount Directly

SITUATION

A lead asks outright if you can lower the price.

DM

I appreciate you asking directly, [Name]. I keep pricing consistent for everyone so it stays fair, but I can offer [Alternative — e.g., payment plan, smaller package] if that helps.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Alternative]

TIP

Offering a structural alternative (not a random discount) protects your pricing integrity.

Script 106 — Justifying Premium Pricing

SITUATION

A lead questions why your offer costs more than typical options in the market.

DM

Fair question, [Name] — [Product/Service] is priced at the premium end because of [Specific Reason, e.g., level of support, quality, results]. It's not for everyone, but it's built for people who want [Outcome].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Specific Reason], [Outcome]

TIP

Owning the premium positioning confidently reads better than apologizing for the price.

Script 107 — Price Shock After Seeing Full Package

SITUATION

A lead reacts with surprise or hesitation after seeing the full price of a package or bundle.

DM

I get that it's a bigger number at first glance, [Name] — want me to show how it breaks down per [Unit, e.g., month/session]? Sometimes it reads differently that way.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Unit]

TIP

Breaking a large total into smaller units often reframes the perceived cost.

Script 108 — Payment Plan/Installment Objection

SITUATION

A lead can't pay the full amount upfront and hesitates because of it.

DM

No problem at all, [Name] — I do offer a payment plan option: [Plan Details]. Would that make it easier to move forward?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Plan Details]

TIP

Mention payment plans proactively if you have one — many leads won't ask unless prompted.

Script 109 — "I Don't See the Value"

SITUATION

A lead isn't convinced the price matches what they'd get in return.

DM

Appreciate you being upfront, [Name]. Can you tell me what outcome would make this feel worth it to you? That'll help me show whether [Product/Service] actually delivers that.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Let them define "value" in their own words rather than assuming what will convince them.

Script 110 — Objection After a Price Increase

SITUATION

An existing or returning customer questions a recent price increase.

DM

Totally understand the question, [Name] — the price changed because of [Reason, e.g., added features, increased demand]. I wanted to make sure the value kept pace with it. Happy to talk through what's new.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Reason]

TIP

Pair every price increase explanation with what improved — it reframes the increase as added value.

Trust & Skepticism Objections

Script 111 — "How Do I Know This Works?"

SITUATION

A lead is doubtful about whether your product or service actually delivers results.

DM

Great question to ask, [Name] — I'd rather you feel confident before buying. Here's an example of a real result: [Example/Case]. Want me to share a couple more?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Example/Case]

TIP

Use a specific, real example rather than a general claim — specificity builds more trust.

Script 112 — "Are You a Legit Business?"

SITUATION

A lead is unsure whether your business is trustworthy, often because you're primarily online.

DM

Fair question, [Name] — totally understand being cautious. You can check out [Proof Point — e.g., website, reviews, business page] to see more about how [Business Name] operates.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Proof Point], [Business Name]

TIP

Point to something verifiable rather than just asserting legitimacy yourself.

Script 113 — Skeptical About Online-Only Businesses

SITUATION

A lead is wary specifically because your business operates primarily through social media or online.

DM

Totally understand the hesitation, [Name] — a lot of great businesses run this way now. If it helps, here's [Proof — e.g., customer reviews, past work, testimonials] so you can see it in action.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Proof]

TIP

Normalize the online business model briefly, then pivot straight to evidence.

Script 114 — Doubt Due to Lack of Reviews

SITUATION

A lead is hesitant because they can't find many public reviews.

DM

That's a valid concern, [Name] — I'm still building up my public reviews, but I can share a few direct testimonials from past customers if that helps.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Be honest if reviews are limited — offering direct testimonials shows transparency instead of deflection.

Script 115 — Concern About Scams/Past Bad Experience

SITUATION

A lead has been burned before by another seller and is cautious as a result.

DM

I'm really sorry that happened, [Name] — that kind of experience makes caution totally reasonable. Happy to answer any questions upfront so you feel comfortable before moving forward.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Acknowledge their past experience genuinely before addressing your own credibility.

Script 116 — Doubt About Guarantees/Refund Policy

SITUATION

A lead wants clarity on what happens if they're not satisfied.

DM

Good to check, [Name] — here's the policy: [Refund/Guarantee Policy]. I want you to feel confident going in, not just hopeful.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Refund/Guarantee Policy]

TIP

State the policy plainly and completely — vague guarantees increase suspicion, not confidence.

Script 117 — Asking for Proof/Credentials

SITUATION

A lead wants to verify your qualifications or experience before committing.

DM

Happy to share, [Name]! Here's a bit about my background: [Credentials/Experience]. Let me know if you'd like more detail on any part of it.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Credentials/Experience]

TIP

Keep the credentials relevant to what they're buying — irrelevant credentials can dilute trust.

Script 118 — Suspicion About Being Oversold

SITUATION

A lead feels like they're being pushed too hard and questions your intentions.

DM

Fair to call that out, [Name] — I don't want you to feel pressured. Take whatever time you need; I'm here if and when it makes sense for you.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Backing off immediately when this comes up often restores trust faster than continuing to explain.

Script 119 — Doubt About Your Experience/Expertise

SITUATION

A lead questions whether you have enough experience to deliver what you're promising.

DM

Totally understand wanting to know that, [Name] — I've worked with [Number/Type of clients or projects] on exactly this kind of thing. Happy to share more specifics if useful.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Number/Type of clients or projects]

TIP

Use concrete numbers or examples rather than general claims like "years of experience."

Script 120 — Objection After a Negative Third-Party Review

SITUATION

A lead references a negative review or comment they saw about your business elsewhere.

DM

Thanks for being upfront about that, [Name] — I take feedback seriously and have worked to address [Issue Mentioned, if known]. Happy to answer any specific concerns you have.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue Mentioned]

TIP

Don't get defensive — acknowledging and addressing the concern directly is far more convincing than dismissing it.

Difficult Customer Situations

Script 121 — Angry Customer Over Delayed Response

SITUATION

A customer is upset because they had to wait longer than expected for a reply.

DM

Hi [Name], I'm really sorry for the delay getting back to you — that's on me. I'm here now and want to make sure I get this sorted for you.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Own the delay directly without excuses — a brief, sincere apology de-escalates faster than justification.

Script 122 — Rude or Aggressive Tone in DM

SITUATION

A customer sends a message with harsh or aggressive language, and you need to respond calmly.

DM

Hi [Name], I can tell you're frustrated, and I want to help fix that. Can you walk me through exactly what happened so I can look into it properly?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Respond to the emotion first, then move to facts — matching their tone will only escalate things.

Script 123 — Customer Threatening a Bad Review

SITUATION

A customer says they'll leave a negative review if their issue isn't resolved quickly.

DM

Hi [Name], I completely understand the frustration, and I want to resolve this properly for you — not just react to the review threat. Can you tell me exactly what went wrong?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Focus on genuinely solving the issue rather than negotiating around the review threat itself.

Script 124 — Customer Demanding Immediate Refund

SITUATION

A customer insists on an immediate refund, possibly outside your normal process.

DM

Hi [Name], I hear you, and I want to sort this out properly. Here's the refund process: [Process]. I'll move as quickly as I can on my end.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Process]

TIP

State the real process clearly rather than promising something you can't guarantee to speed up.

Script 125 — Customer Making Unreasonable Demands

SITUATION

A customer asks for something outside the scope of what was purchased or agreed.

DM

Hi [Name], I really want to help here. That particular request falls outside what's included in [Product/Service], but here's what I can offer instead: [Alternative].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Alternative]

TIP

Say no to the specific request while still offering something constructive — it keeps the tone collaborative.

Script 126 — Customer Using Inappropriate Language

SITUATION

A customer uses language that crosses a professional line (insults, profanity, etc.).

DM

Hi [Name], I want to help resolve this, but I'll need us to keep the conversation respectful so I can focus on actually fixing the issue for you.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Set the boundary once, calmly and clearly — repeating it multiple times rarely changes the outcome.

Script 127 — Customer Repeatedly Messaging/Spamming

SITUATION

A customer sends multiple rapid-fire messages before you've had a chance to respond.

DM

Hi [Name], I see all your messages — sorry for the wait! Let's tackle this together: what's the most urgent part I should look at first?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Acknowledging you've seen everything reduces the urge to keep sending more messages.

Script 128 — Customer Accusing You of Scamming Them

SITUATION

A customer directly accuses you of dishonesty or fraud.

DM

Hi [Name], I want to take this seriously — that's not at all the intention here. Can you walk me through what happened so I can look into it and make this right?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Stay calm and factual — getting defensive against an accusation tends to escalate the situation further.

Script 129 — Customer Comparing You Negatively to a Competitor

SITUATION

A frustrated customer brings up a competitor as being better, often as a jab.

DM

Hi [Name], I hear you, and I want to make this right on my end rather than focus on comparisons. What specifically would make this feel resolved for you?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Redirect to resolution rather than engaging in a comparison — it keeps the conversation productive.

Script 130 — De-Escalating a Heated Conversation

SITUATION

A conversation has become emotionally charged and you need to bring the tone back down.

DM

Hi [Name], I can tell this has been frustrating, and I genuinely want to fix it. Let's slow down for a second — what's the one thing that would help most right now?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Asking for "the one thing" narrows a chaotic conversation into something actionable.

Complaint & Dispute Resolution

Script 131 — Product Didn't Meet Expectations

SITUATION

A customer says the product or service fell short of what they expected.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for being honest about that — sorry it didn't meet expectations. Can you share more about what you were hoping for so I can see how to fix it?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Understanding the gap between expectation and reality helps you address the actual issue, not just apologize generically.

Script 132 — Service Delivery Delay Complaint

SITUATION

A customer is upset because a service or delivery took longer than promised.

DM

Hi [Name], I'm sorry for the delay — I know that's frustrating when you were expecting [Original Timeline]. Here's where things currently stand: [Status Update].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Original Timeline], [Status Update]

TIP

Always pair an apology with a concrete status update — vague reassurance rarely satisfies a delay complaint.

Script 133 — Miscommunication Dispute

SITUATION

A customer believes they were told something different than what actually happened.

DM

Hi [Name], let's sort this out together — sounds like there might have been a miscommunication somewhere. Can you share what you understood so I can compare it with what was agreed?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Frame it as a shared misunderstanding rather than assigning blame right away — it keeps the tone collaborative.

Script 134 — Billing/Charge Dispute

SITUATION

A customer questions or disputes a charge on their account.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for flagging that — let me look into the charge on my end. Can you confirm the date and amount so I can check the details?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Gather specifics before explaining anything — it prevents giving an answer based on the wrong transaction.

Script 135 — Customer Says They Were Misled

SITUATION

A customer feels the product or service was marketed differently than what they received.

DM

Hi [Name], I take that seriously — that's never the intention. Can you tell me specifically what felt different from what was described? I want to understand and address it properly.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Take the concern at face value first — you can clarify marketing language after you understand their specific complaint.

Script 136 — Technical Issue Complaint

SITUATION

A customer is frustrated by a bug, glitch, or technical malfunction.

DM

Hi [Name], sorry for the trouble — that shouldn't be happening. Can you send a screenshot or describe exactly what you're seeing so I can look into it right away?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Ask for specific evidence (screenshot, error message) early — it speeds up diagnosis significantly.

Script 137 — Complaint Escalated From Another Platform

SITUATION

A complaint that started elsewhere (public comment, review, email) has now moved into DMs.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for moving this to DM so we can sort it out properly. Can you walk me through what happened so I can look into it directly?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Thank them for moving to a private channel — it reinforces that you're taking the issue seriously, not avoiding it.

Script 138 — Customer Wants a Partial Refund

SITUATION

A customer requests a partial refund rather than a full return.

DM

Hi [Name], I appreciate you proposing that. Let me look at the specifics of your order and get back to you with what's fair on both sides.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Avoid committing to a number immediately — review the details first so your response is accurate and consistent.

Script 139 — Customer Threatens a Chargeback

SITUATION

A customer mentions they'll dispute the charge with their bank instead of resolving it directly with you.

DM

Hi [Name], I'd really rather resolve this directly with you first — chargebacks can take a while and I think we can sort this out faster together. What would a fair resolution look like for you?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Stay solution-focused and non-confrontational — this is the moment to prioritize resolving, not defending.

Script 140 — Resolving and Closing Out a Complaint

SITUATION

A complaint has been addressed and you want to confirm resolution and close the loop.

DM

Hi [Name], just following up to make sure everything's sorted on your end now. Let me know if there's anything else you need from me.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Always close the loop explicitly — an unconfirmed resolution can leave the customer feeling unheard.

Setting Boundaries & Difficult Conversations

Script 141 — Declining an Unreasonable Request Professionally

SITUATION

A customer asks for something that isn't feasible or fair to provide.

DM

Hi [Name], I really wish I could make that work, but it's not something I'm able to do. What I can offer instead is [Alternative] — would that help?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Alternative]

TIP

Pairing "no" with an alternative keeps the conversation constructive instead of feeling like a dead end.

Script 142 — Saying No to a Refund Outside Policy

SITUATION

A customer requests a refund that falls outside your stated policy.

DM

Hi [Name], I understand the request, but this falls outside our refund policy of [Policy Summary]. I do want to help though — could [Alternative Solution] work for you instead?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Policy Summary], [Alternative Solution]

TIP

State the policy factually, without apologizing excessively — over-apologizing can undermine your position.

Script 143 — Ending a Conversation With a Disrespectful Customer

SITUATION

A conversation has crossed a line and you need to end it professionally.

DM

Hi [Name], I want to help, but I need our conversation to stay respectful for me to continue. If you'd like to pick this back up calmly, I'm here.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Leave the door open for a respectful continuation — this keeps the boundary firm but not punitive.

Script 144 — Clarifying Scope When Asked for Extra Free Work

SITUATION

A customer requests additional work or deliverables beyond what was agreed or paid for.

DM

Hi [Name], happy to help however I can! That particular piece falls outside what's included in [Product/Service] — I can quote it separately if you're interested, or we can look at what is included.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Clarifying scope early prevents ongoing scope creep throughout the relationship.

Script 145 — Responding to a Public Negative Comment Moved to DM

SITUATION

Someone left a negative public comment and you're following up privately to resolve it.

DM

Hi [Name], saw your comment and wanted to reach out directly so we can actually sort this out. Can you share more details about what happened?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Moving the conversation to DM shows initiative — always ask permission-style questions rather than being defensive about the public comment.

Script 146 — Handling a Customer Who Won't Stop Negotiating

SITUATION

A customer keeps pushing for a better price or terms after you've already given a final answer.

DM

Hi [Name], I hear you, and I want this to work for you — but [Price/Terms] is where I need to hold for now. Let me know if you'd like to move forward on that basis.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Price/Terms]

TIP

Repeat your final position once, clearly, and then let the ball rest in their court — over-explaining invites more negotiation.

Script 147 — Addressing Repeated No-Shows/Missed Calls

SITUATION

A customer has missed scheduled calls or appointments multiple times.

DM

Hi [Name], noticed we've missed connecting a couple of times now — totally understand things come up. Want to lock in a time that works better for your schedule?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Frame it around finding a better time rather than calling out the missed appointments directly.

Script 148 — Responding to Unrealistic Expectations

SITUATION

A customer expects results or outcomes that aren't realistically achievable with your product or service.

DM

Hi [Name], I want to be upfront with you — [Product/Service] typically delivers [Realistic Outcome], not [Expected Outcome]. I'd rather set that expectation clearly now than have you disappointed later.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Realistic Outcome], [Expected Outcome]

TIP

Being honest about limitations, even if it risks losing the sale, protects long-term trust and reputation.

Script 149 — Redirecting an Off-Topic or Inappropriate Conversation

SITUATION

A conversation drifts into topics unrelated to business, or becomes inappropriate.

DM

Hi [Name], happy to chat, but I'll keep things focused on [Product/Service] here — let me know if there's anything specific I can help with on that front.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Redirect firmly but politely — no need to explain further if the boundary isn't respected after this.

Script 150 — Professional Closing Message When a Relationship Isn't Working

SITUATION

It's become clear the business relationship isn't a good fit and you need to end it respectfully.

DM

Hi [Name], after everything we've discussed, I don't think I'm the right fit to help you with this right now, and I want to be upfront about that rather than waste your time. I wish you the best moving forward.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Ending clearly and respectfully protects your reputation and leaves the door open for a different fit in the future.

PART 4 OF 4 • SCRIPTS 151–200

Part Four — Support, Reviews & Referrals

Customer Support — General & Onboarding Support

Customer Support — Proactive & Ongoing Support

Review Requests

Referral Requests & Referral Programs

Community, Loyalty & Long-Term Relationship

Customer Support — General & Onboarding Support

Script 151 — Welcome Support Introduction

SITUATION

A new customer needs to know how and where to reach you for support going forward.

DM

Hi [Name], welcome again! If you ever need help with [Product/Service], just message me here — I usually reply within [Response Time].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Response Time]

TIP

Setting a clear response-time expectation upfront prevents frustration later if replies aren't instant.

Script 152 — FAQ Quick-Answer Template

SITUATION

A customer asks a question that comes up often and you want a fast, clear answer.

DM

Hi [Name], great question! [Short Answer]. Let me know if that covers it or if you'd like more detail.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Short Answer]

TIP

Keep a running list of your most common questions so you can answer quickly and consistently.

Script 153 — Password/Login Issue

SITUATION

A customer can't access their account or is having login trouble.

DM

Hi [Name], sorry about that! Try [Reset Step — e.g., resetting your password via this link]. Let me know if you're still locked out after that.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Reset Step]

TIP

Give one clear action first rather than a full list of troubleshooting steps — it's faster to follow.

Script 154 — Order Status Inquiry

SITUATION

A customer wants to know the current status of their order.

DM

Hi [Name], let me check that for you — your order is currently [Status]. Expected to [Next Milestone] by [Date].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Status], [Next Milestone], [Date]

TIP

Always give a specific date or timeframe rather than "soon" — it reduces repeat check-ins.

Script 155 — Shipping/Tracking Inquiry

SITUATION

A customer wants tracking details for a physical product order.

DM

Hi [Name], here's your tracking info: [Tracking Link/Number]. It looks like it's currently [Status] and should arrive by [Date].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Tracking Link/Number], [Status], [Date]

TIP

Link directly to the tracking page when possible — it saves the customer an extra step.

Script 156 — Cancellation Request Handling

SITUATION

A customer wants to cancel an order, subscription, or booking.

DM

Hi [Name], I can take care of that for you. Just to confirm — you'd like to cancel [Item/Service], correct? I'll process it right after you confirm.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Item/Service]

TIP

Always confirm the exact item before cancelling — it prevents accidental cancellations of the wrong thing.

Script 157 — Modifying an Order or Appointment

SITUATION

A customer wants to change details of an existing order or booking.

DM

Hi [Name], happy to update that! You'd like to change it to [New Detail], is that right? I'll get it adjusted once you confirm.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [New Detail]

TIP

Restate the change back to them before making it — this avoids miscommunication on updates.

Script 158 — Explaining a Feature or How-To

SITUATION

A customer needs guidance on how to use a specific feature of your product or service.

DM

Hi [Name], good question! Here's how [Feature] works: [Short Explanation]. Let me know if you'd like a walkthrough of anything else.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Feature], [Short Explanation]

TIP

Offer a follow-up walkthrough proactively — some customers won't ask even if they're still confused.

Script 159 — Multi-Issue Support Triage

SITUATION

A customer raises several issues at once and you need to organize the response.

DM

Hi [Name], thanks for laying all that out! Let's tackle them one at a time — starting with [Issue 1]: [Answer]. I'll follow up on the rest right after.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue 1], [Answer]

TIP

Addressing issues one at a time keeps the conversation organized and avoids answers getting lost.

Script 160 — Support Wrap-Up/Closing Confirmation

SITUATION

An issue has been resolved and you want to formally close out the support conversation.

DM

Hi [Name], glad we got that sorted! Just checking — is everything working the way it should now, or is there anything else I can help with?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Always end support conversations with an open question — it catches any lingering issues before they escalate.

Customer Support — Proactive & Ongoing Support

Script 161 — Proactive Outage/Issue Notification

SITUATION

You need to inform a customer about a known issue before they report it themselves.

DM

Hi [Name], wanted to give you a heads-up — we're aware of [Issue] and working on a fix. I'll update you as soon as it's resolved.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue]

TIP

Reaching out before the customer notices builds trust, even when the news isn't great.

Script 162 — Check-In After Resolving an Issue

SITUATION

You resolved a customer's issue a few days ago and want to make sure it's still working well.

DM

Hi [Name], just checking back in — how's everything holding up since we fixed [Issue]? Want to make sure it's still running smoothly.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue]

TIP

This follow-up shows care beyond the initial fix and can catch a recurring problem early.

Script 163 — Offering a Tutorial/Resource Proactively

SITUATION

You notice a customer might benefit from a resource they haven't been told about yet.

DM

Hi [Name], thought this might help — here's a quick guide on [Topic]: [Link/Resource]. Let me know if it's useful or if you'd like more.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Topic], [Link/Resource]

TIP

Offer resources without being asked when you notice a customer struggling — it prevents future support tickets.

Script 164 — Notifying About a Fix/Update

SITUATION

You want to let a customer know that an issue they previously reported has now been fixed.

DM

Hi [Name], good news — [Issue] has been fixed! Feel free to try it again and let me know if everything looks right on your end.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue]

TIP

Always circle back once a fix ships — customers remember when you follow through, not just when you respond.

Script 165 — Support Survey/CSAT Request

SITUATION

You want brief feedback on how a recent support interaction went.

DM

Hi [Name], quick one — how would you rate the support you got for [Issue], from 1-5? Helps me keep improving.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue]

TIP

Keep the ask to a single, simple question — a short survey gets more responses than a long one.

Script 166 — Escalating to a Specialist/Team Member

SITUATION

An issue is beyond what you can resolve directly and needs to go to someone else on your team.

DM

Hi [Name], this one needs a closer look from [Team Member/Specialist], so I'm looping them in now. They'll follow up with you directly, and I'll stay on top of it too.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Team Member/Specialist]

TIP

Reassure the customer you're still involved even after handing off — it prevents them feeling dropped.

Script 167 — Apologizing for a Support Delay (Proactive)

SITUATION

You want to get ahead of a delay before the customer has to ask about it.

DM

Hi [Name], wanted to reach out before you had to ask — [Issue] is taking a bit longer than expected. Expecting an update by [Date], and I'll keep you posted.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue], [Date]

TIP

Reaching out proactively about a delay is far better received than waiting for the customer to follow up first.

Script 168 — Support Hours/Availability Info

SITUATION

A customer needs to know when they can expect support responses.

DM

Hi [Name], just so you know — I'm typically available [Hours/Days] for support. If you message outside that window, I'll get back to you as soon as I'm online.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Hours/Days]

TIP

Setting expectations about availability reduces frustration during off-hours.

Script 169 — Following Up on an Unresolved Ticket

SITUATION

An issue is still open and you want to check progress or provide an update.

DM

Hi [Name], following up on [Issue] — here's where things stand: [Update]. I'll keep pushing on this and update you again by [Date].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue], [Update], [Date]

TIP

Even a "still working on it" update is better than silence — it shows the issue hasn't been forgotten.

Script 170 — Confirming a Resolved Issue Long-Term

SITUATION

Some time has passed since an issue was resolved and you want to confirm it hasn't returned.

DM

Hi [Name], it's been a little while since we sorted [Issue] — just confirming it's still working well on your end?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Issue]

TIP

A long-term check-in catches issues that resurface after the initial fix, which customers rarely report on their own.

SECTION 18 OF 20

Review Requests

Script 171 — First-Time Review Request After Purchase

SITUATION

A customer has just had a positive first experience and you want to ask for a review.

DM

Hi [Name], so glad [Product/Service] has been working out! If you have a minute, a quick review would really help others find us too.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Only send this after confirming satisfaction — timing the ask right matters more than the wording.

Script 172 — Review Request With Direct Link/Instructions

SITUATION

You want to make leaving a review as frictionless as possible.

DM

Hi [Name], here's the direct link if you'd like to leave a review: [Link]. Takes less than a minute — really appreciate it either way!

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Link]

TIP

Always include the direct link — extra steps to find where to review significantly lower response rates.

Script 173 — Video Testimonial Request

SITUATION

You want to ask a satisfied customer for a short video testimonial instead of a text review.

DM

Hi [Name], would you be open to recording a quick 30-second video about your experience with [Product/Service]? Totally optional, but it'd mean a lot.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Mention the time commitment upfront — "30 seconds" feels far more manageable than an open-ended ask.

Script 174 — Review Request After Milestone Usage

SITUATION

A customer has used your product or service long enough to have a well-formed opinion.

DM

Hi [Name], you've been using [Product/Service] for [Time Period] now — I'd love to hear how it's been if you're open to sharing a review.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Time Period]

TIP

Asking after real usage time produces more detailed, credible reviews than asking right after purchase.

Script 175 — Gentle Review Reminder

SITUATION

A customer agreed to leave a review but hasn't gotten around to it yet.

DM

Hi [Name], no pressure at all — just floating this back up in case it got buried. Here's the link again if you still want to leave that review: [Link].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Link]

TIP

One gentle reminder is fine — avoid repeated follow-ups, which can feel like nagging.

Script 176 — Requesting a Review on a Specific Platform

SITUATION

You want the review to be posted on a particular platform, like Google or Facebook.

DM

Hi [Name], if you're up for leaving a review, a Google review specifically would really help us get found by more people — here's the link: [Link].

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Link]

TIP

Explain briefly why that platform matters — people are more willing to help when they understand the impact.

Script 177 — Responding to a Positive Review Received

SITUATION

A customer has just posted a positive public review and you want to thank them personally.

DM

Hi [Name], just saw your review — thank you so much, it really made my day! Appreciate you taking the time to share that.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Send a personal DM in addition to any public reply — it makes the thank-you feel more genuine.

Script 178 — Responding to a Negative Review Received (Private Follow-Up)

SITUATION

A customer left a negative public review and you want to follow up privately to understand and resolve it.

DM

Hi [Name], saw your review and wanted to reach out directly — sorry your experience wasn't what you expected. Can you tell me more about what happened so I can try to make it right?

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Always respond privately in addition to any public reply — it shows you're focused on resolving, not just managing appearances.

Script 179 — Asking Permission to Feature a Testimonial

SITUATION

A customer has said something positive and you'd like to use it publicly with their permission.

DM

Hi [Name], loved what you said about [Product/Service] — would you be okay with me featuring that as a testimonial on my page? Happy to credit you however you'd like.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Always ask before publishing anything, even a casual comment — it respects the customer and avoids awkward surprises.

Script 180 — Thank-You After Review Is Posted

SITUATION

A customer's review has gone live and you want to formally thank them.

DM

Hi [Name], your review just went live — thank you again, truly! It genuinely helps other people trust [Business Name] a little more.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Business Name]

TIP

Telling them the impact of their review (helping others trust you) makes the thank-you feel more meaningful than a generic "thanks."

SECTION 19 OF 20

Referral Requests & Referral Programs

Script 181 — Introducing a Referral Program

SITUATION

You want to let a customer know about a referral program for the first time.

DM

Hi [Name], quick heads-up — I actually have a referral program where you get [Reward] for every person you send my way who becomes a customer. Want the details?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Reward]

TIP

Lead with the specific reward — vague "referral perks" language gets less engagement than a concrete number.

Script 182 — Explaining Referral Rewards/Incentive

SITUATION

A customer is interested in the referral program and wants to know exactly how it works.

DM

Hi [Name], here's how it works: you share [Referral Link/Code], and once someone you refer [Action — e.g., makes a purchase], you both get [Reward]. Simple as that!

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Referral Link/Code], [Action], [Reward]

TIP

Keep the mechanics to two or three steps max — complicated referral processes discourage participation.

Script 183 — Asking a Happy Customer for a Referral

SITUATION

A customer has expressed satisfaction and you want to ask if they know others who might benefit.

DM

Hi [Name], really glad to hear [Product/Service] has worked out so well! Do you know anyone else who might benefit from something similar?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Ask this in the moment right after they express satisfaction — it's the most natural time to bring it up.

Script 184 — Reminding About the Referral Program

SITUATION

A customer knows about your referral program but hasn't used it, and you want to remind them casually.

DM

Hi [Name], just a friendly reminder — you're still eligible for [Reward] anytime you refer someone to [Business Name]. No rush, just wanted it on your radar.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Reward], [Business Name]

TIP

Frame it as a reminder, not a push — it keeps the tone helpful rather than salesy.

Script 185 — Thanking for a Successful Referral Conversion

SITUATION

Someone a customer referred has become a paying customer, and you want to close the loop.

DM

Hi [Name], great news — [Referred Name] just became a customer! Your [Reward] is on its way. Thanks again for thinking of us.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Referred Name], [Reward]

TIP

Confirming the reward is "on its way" reassures the customer the program is genuinely honored, not just promised.

Script 186 — Group/Team Referral Request (B2B)

SITUATION

You're asking a business contact if their team or company might benefit from your services.

DM

Hi [Name], since [Service] has worked well for your team, do you think it could be useful for any other teams or departments at [Company]? Happy to put together something tailored if so.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Service], [Company]

TIP

Offering something "tailored" signals you're not just trying to duplicate the same pitch elsewhere.

Script 187 — Referral Request Tied to a Specific Result

SITUATION

A customer has achieved a clear, specific result and you want to connect that to a referral ask.

DM

Hi [Name], that's such a great result with [Specific Outcome]! If you know anyone chasing something similar, I'd love an introduction.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Specific Outcome]

TIP

Tying the ask to a concrete result makes the referral feel earned rather than randomly timed.

Script 188 — Asking for a Social Share or Tag

SITUATION

You want a customer to share or tag your business on social media rather than a formal referral.

DM

Hi [Name], if you ever post about [Product/Service], I'd love it if you tagged [Business Name] — always fun to see it in action!

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service], [Business Name]

TIP

Keep this ask casual — it should feel like an invitation, not an obligation.

Script 189 — Partner/Collaboration Referral Request

SITUATION

You're reaching out to another business owner about cross-referring customers to each other.

DM

Hi [Name], I think our audiences might overlap well — would you be open to referring each other's businesses when it makes sense? Happy to talk through how that could work.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

Frame this as mutual value from the start — a one-sided referral ask to another business rarely lands well.

Script 190 — Referral Leaderboard/Incentive Update

SITUATION

You're updating an engaged referrer on their progress within an ongoing referral program.

DM

Hi [Name], quick update — you're currently at [Number] successful referrals, just [Number] away from [Next Reward Tier]. Thought you'd want to know!

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Number], [Next Reward Tier]

TIP

Showing exact progress toward the next tier motivates action far more than a generic "keep referring" message.

SECTION 20 OF 20

Community, Loyalty & Long-Term Relationship

Script 191 — Inviting Feedback on a Community Group

SITUATION

You want members of your community or group to share their thoughts on a specific topic.

DM

Hi [Name], curious to hear your take — what's been the most helpful part of [Community/Group] for you so far?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Community/Group]

TIP

Asking a specific question gets far more thoughtful answers than a general "how's it going?"

Script 192 — Highlighting a Customer Publicly (Permission Ask)

SITUATION

You'd like to feature a customer's story or results publicly and need to ask first.

DM

Hi [Name], your story with [Product/Service] is genuinely inspiring — would you be okay with me sharing it publicly (with your name, or anonymously if you'd prefer)?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Always offer the anonymous option — it makes people more comfortable saying yes.

Script 193 — Long-Term Customer Appreciation

SITUATION

You want to acknowledge a customer who has stayed with you for an extended period.

DM

Hi [Name], just wanted to say — having you as a customer for [Time Period] means a lot. Thank you for sticking with [Business Name] this long.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Time Period], [Business Name]

TIP

Send this with zero ask attached — pure appreciation strengthens loyalty more than any offer could.

Script 194 — Answering Community Questions

SITUATION

A member of your community or group asks a general question relevant to others too.

DM

Hi [Name], great question! [Answer]. Might be worth posting in the group too — I bet others are wondering the same thing.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Answer]

TIP

Encouraging them to post publicly (when appropriate) benefits the whole community, not just one person.

Script 195 — Onboarding Into a VIP/Insider List

SITUATION

You want to invite an engaged customer into an exclusive list or tier.

DM

Hi [Name], based on how engaged you've been, I'd love to add you to my VIP list — you'll get [Benefit] before anyone else. Want in?

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Benefit]

TIP

Make the invitation feel earned by referencing their specific engagement, not just a mass invite.

Script 196 — Requesting User-Generated Content (UGC)

SITUATION

You want a customer to create content (photo, video, post) featuring your product.

DM

Hi [Name], would you be up for sharing a quick photo or video of you using [Product]? Always love seeing how customers actually use it — happy to reshare with credit.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product]

TIP

Offering to credit and reshare gives the customer a clear reason to say yes beyond just goodwill.

Script 197 — Acknowledging Tagged Content

SITUATION

A customer has tagged your business in a post and you want to respond in DM.

DM

Hi [Name], saw you tagged us — thank you so much for sharing! Really made our day seeing that.

PERSONALIZE

[Name]

TIP

A quick, genuine DM response often means more to the customer than a public repost alone.

Script 198 — Requesting Case Study Participation

SITUATION

You want a customer with strong results to participate in a more in-depth case study.

DM

Hi [Name], your results with [Product/Service] are honestly impressive — would you be open to being featured in a short case study? Happy to walk you through what that would involve.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Offer to explain the process before asking for commitment — it lowers hesitation about the time investment.

Script 199 — Renewal + Review Combined Ask

SITUATION

A customer is renewing their subscription or service and it's a natural moment to also ask for a review.

DM

Hi [Name], excited to have you continuing with [Product/Service]! If you're open to it, a quick review of your experience so far would really help others considering it too.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Product/Service]

TIP

Pairing the renewal thank-you with the review ask feels natural since both stem from the same positive moment.

Script 200 — Year-in-Review/Relationship Recap Message

SITUATION

You want to send a customer a personal recap of their journey with your business over time.

DM

Hi [Name], looking back, it's been [Time Period] since you joined [Business Name] — from [Milestone 1] to [Milestone 2], it's been great having you along. Thank you for being part of it.

PERSONALIZE

[Name], [Time Period], [Business Name], [Milestone 1], [Milestone 2]

TIP

Referencing specific milestones makes this feel like a genuine reflection, not a templated year-end blast.

Thank You

You now have 200 ready-to-use DM scripts covering every stage of a real customer relationship — from the first message to long-term loyalty.

Customize the placeholders, keep your own voice, and use these as a starting point for conversations, not a substitute for genuine ones.
